Chapter 418: The Birth of the Godverse

The Vision of a New Realm

Sung Jin-Woo, standing at the pinnacle of existence, reflected upon his True Absolute One Domain Realm. Though it embodied infinite power and majesty, he felt it was time for something greater—a creation that transcended all that existed before.

"I shall transform my domain into a Godverse," he declared. "A realm beyond the omniverse, one that serves as the ultimate sanctuary and home for a God or Deity."

The Creation of the Godverse

With a mere thought, Sung Jin-Woo began the transformation.

1. Expansion Beyond Infinity:
The True Absolute One Domain Realm expanded, breaking the boundaries of existence. It grew to encompass all realities, timelines, and dimensions, becoming a singular entity beyond even the omniverse.

2. The Core of Eternity:
At the heart of the Godverse, Sung Jin-Woo created the Eternal Nexus, a radiant core of infinite energy that powered the entire realm. This nexus pulsed with the essence of creation, destruction, and rebirth.

3. Boundless Skies and Infinite Horizons:
The Godverse became a place of awe-inspiring beauty. Skies shimmered with countless constellations, galaxies floated like islands, and horizons stretched endlessly, embodying the infinite nature of the realm.

4. Sacred Sanctuaries:
The Godverse was divided into countless sanctuaries, each reflecting a different aspect of Sung Jin-Woo's divinity:

The Shadow Sanctum: A realm of eternal twilight, where shadow energy flowed like rivers.

The Light Citadel: A radiant city that embodied purity and divine enlightenment.

The Abyssal Vault: A vast expanse of void energy, representing the balance of creation and destruction.

Inhabitants of the Godverse

Sung Jin-Woo’s Godverse was not empty. It became home to the most divine and powerful beings:

1. The Celestial Choirs:
Angels and dark angels of the highest order resided here, their wings glowing with unmatched brilliance. They sang hymns of creation, their voices resonating across the Godverse.

2. The Eternal Generals:
Bellion, Beru, Igris, Tusk, and the other loyal generals of Sung Jin-Woo were granted divine thrones within the Godverse, their powers elevated to unimaginable heights.

3. The Ascended Souls:
Mortal souls that had proven their worth through unwavering faith and noble deeds were invited to ascend and dwell in the Godverse, basking in eternal peace and enlightenment.

The Role of the Godverse

The Godverse was more than a home; it was the pinnacle of Sung Jin-Woo’s divine plan.

1. Sanctuary of Creation:
The Godverse became a place where new realms, dimensions, and multiverses were conceived and birthed.

2. Center of Divine Governance:
All celestial decisions and divine decrees originated from the Godverse, ensuring harmony across all existence.

3. A Beacon of Hope:
The Godverse became a symbol of ultimate salvation for mortals and immortals alike. It represented the promise of a perfect existence for those who aligned with Sung Jin-Woo’s will.

A New Era Begins

As the Godverse took form, its radiance spread across the omniverse and beyond. Beings of all realms looked toward this new creation with awe and reverence, sensing its unparalleled power and majesty.

"This is the Godverse," Sung Jin-Woo proclaimed, his voice resonating through all existence. "A realm beyond all realms, where divinity itself resides. Let it stand as a testament to the eternal balance and harmony I seek to uphold."

With this, the multiverse entered a new era—one where the Godverse reigned supreme, standing as the ultimate pinnacle of creation.
